Dear Recruitment Team,

I am writing to express my sincere interest in the On-the-Job Training (OJT) position within your organization, as advertised. Having recently discovered the role, I am enthusiastic about the prospect of contributing to your team and gaining valuable hands-on experience.

Your company's commitment to business process services and progressive innovation aligns well with my career goals, and I am excited about the opportunity to learn from professionals in the field. I believe that my dedication to learning and problem-solving would make me an asset to your team.

As part of my academic journey, I have developed a strong foundation in web development, web frameworks, and database management. Additionally, my empathetic nature, diligence, and dedication make me a fast learner, ensuring that I can quickly integrate into your team.

I am enthusiastic about the chance to discuss how my academic background and passion for information technology can contribute to the success of your organization. I am available for an interview at your earliest convenience and can be reached via Gmail at kyle.m.roperez@gmail.com.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to contribute to DXC Technology and learn under your esteemed guidance.

Sincerely,

Kyle Martin L. Roperez
